Customer Reviews

John's book is one of the best marketing books I've ever read. Being from the south where we make prom dresses and tuxedos from Duct Tape, I'm well acquainted with the many uses of Duct Tape -- from removing warts to patching boats and making clothing. So I was naturally attracted to the cover. I had never seen Duct Tape used to market anything! Of course the theme is "Stickiness - marketing that sticks like Duct Tape." What I love about this book begins in the table of contents. John outlines the content in parts (Part I, II, III) and then leads the reader through a very comprehensive and detailed list of what to do: Strategy before tactics, Identify your ideal client, and so on...right through every single step you'll need to build your foundation. Check out the Contents for more detail. The thing is I feel like John is sitting across the table talking to me as he writes. There’s no fluff and no blowing smoke up my bum, or padding the pages. You get specific, matter-of-fact advice. There’s no hype, no trying to convince or sell you anything. It’s real. It’s simple. It’s serious advice you can use, no matter what stage of business you’re in. I love his action steps at the end of each chapter - ways you can make a difference in your business NOW, today! He also breaks down his chapters into segments, bolding each idea or process, for instance. "Write a blog" is bolded and then there’s a paragraph on that, then "Guest post on blogs," and a paragraph on that. You can skim this book (I confess I did that the minute I got it), find what you need and then read more later. I finally sat down to read it because skimming it was so damn interesting! John gives you facts, stats and tips. You can’t read this book, set it down and walk away feeling nothing.
